

Consultancy

Saphere's team of accredited and highly experienced consultants have created many business intelligence management systems, and have partnered with Cognos direct on many projects as a trouble-shooter. The team boasts a wide variety of experience across many platforms, databases, operating systems, production applications and network protocols.

For this reason, we can offer the following range of consulting services:- Project management - we can oversee your complete BI project; our extensive network of contacts allows us to source software and hardware keeping your procurement costs to a minimum. Cognos software - as accredited resellers, you can buy all the software you require direct from Saphere. Cognos implementation - full implementation from concept to delivery and support of the complete Cognos toolset
